

TEXAS MERCHANT GAINS 34 POUNDS

Quit Taking Tanlac 18 Months Ago—Still Retains Weight and Feels Fine.

SUFFERED TWENTY YEARS

John Crabtree Says the Money He Paid for Tanlac Was Best Investment He Ever Made in His Life.

"I have gained thirty-four pounds on three bottles of Tanlac and I now know what it is to enjoy life and good health after suffering twenty years," said John M. Crabtree, a general merchant at Five Mile Station A, Dallas, Texas. "I bought my first bottle nearly twenty years ago," continued Mr. Crabtree, "and it was the best investment I ever made in my life. I began to improve almost from the start and three bottles simply made me over into a new man. I have enjoyed the best of health ever since."

"I suffered with catarrh of the stomach and indigestion for twenty years and for eighteen months I had to live almost entirely on cereals. My stomach was full of gas and I suffered with awful headaches all the time. I was nervous and couldn't sleep. I spent nearly all of one whole year in bed and fell off in weight to one hundred and eighteen pounds."

"After using three bottles of Tanlac, I had increased in weight from one hundred and eighteen pounds to one hundred and fifty-two—making an actual gain of thirty-four pounds—all my troubles were gone and I was feeling like a new man."

"Although it has been a year and a half since Tanlac relieved me of my awful catarrhal trouble and indigestion, I still retain my increase in weight and feel simply fine all the time. I've been eating anything I want—in fact anything anybody else can—and sleeping like a child every night. Being made into a strong, healthy man after suffering as long as I did is enough to make me rejoice and I'm glad to endorse Tanlac because I know what it will do."

FORGET PROFITS; WIN THE WAR

President Wilson Appeals to Business Interests of Country.

JUST PRICES IS HIS DEMAND

Business Should Not Take Toll Off Men in Trenches, Says the Chief Executive—Ship Owners Are Condemned.

Washington.—President Wilson appealed to the country's business interests Wednesday to put aside every selfish consideration and to give their aid to the nation as freely as those who go to offer their lives on the battlefield.

In a statement addressed to the coal operators and manufacturers he gave assurance that just prices will be paid by the government and the public during the war, but warned that no attempt to extort unusual profits will be tolerated.

"Your patriotism," said the president's appeal, "is of the same self-denying stuff as the patriotism of the men dead and maimed on the fields of France, or it is no patriotism at all. Let us never speak, then, of profits and patriotism in the same sentence."

"I shall expect every man who is not a slacker to be at my side throughout this great enterprise. In it no man can win honor who thinks of himself."

Condemns Ship Owners.
The president declared there must be but one price for the government and for the public. He expressed confidence that business generally would be found loyal to the last degree, and that the problem of wartime prices, which he declared will "mean victory or defeat," will be solved rightly through patriotic co-operation.

In unmeasured terms, however, Mr. Wilson condemned the ship owners of the country for maintaining a schedule of ocean freight rates which has placed "almost insuperable obstacles in the path of the government."

President's Call.

The president's statement follows: "The government is about to attempt to determine the prices at which it will ask you henceforth to furnish various supplies which are necessary for the prosecution of the war, and various materials which will be needed in the industries by which the war must be sustained. We shall, of course, try to determine them justly and to the best advantage of the nation as a whole; but justice is easier to speak of than to arrive at, and there are some considerations which I hope we shall keep steadily in mind while this particular problem of justice is being worked out."

Promises Just Price.

"Therefore I take the liberty of stating very candidly my own view of the situation and of the principles which should guide both the government and the mine owners and manufacturers of the country in this difficult matter. "A just price must, of course, be paid for everything the government buys. By a just price I mean a price which will sustain the industries concerned in a high state of efficiency, provide a living for those who conduct them, enable them to pay good wages, and make possible the expansions of their enterprises which will from time to time become necessary as the stupendous undertakings of this great war develop."

Must Face the Facts.

"We could not wisely or reasonably do less than pay such prices. They are necessary for the maintenance and development of industry, and the maintenance and development of industry are necessary for the great task we have in hand."

"But I trust that we shall not surround the matter with a mist of sentiment. Facts are our masters now. We ought not to put the acceptance of such prices on the ground of patriotism."

"Patriotism has nothing to do with profits in a case like this. Patriotism and profits ought never in the present circumstances, be mentioned together."

"It is perfectly proper to discuss profits as a matter of business, with a view to maintaining the integrity of capital and the efficiency of labor in these tragical months, when the liberty of free men everywhere and of industry itself trembles in the balance; but it would be absurd to discuss them as a motive for helping to serve and save our country."

"Patriotism leaves profits out of the question. In these days of our supreme trial, when we are sending hundreds of thousands of our young men across the seas to serve a great cause, no true man who stays behind to work for them and sustain them by his labor will ask himself what he is personally going to make out of that labor."

"No true patriot will permit himself to take toll of their heroism in money or seek to grow rich by the shedding of their blood. He will give as freely and with as unstinted self-sacrifice as they. When they are giving their lives, will he not at least give his money?"

Assails 'Bribery.'

"I hear it insisted that more than a just price, more than a price that will sustain our industries, must be paid; that it is necessary to pay very liberal and unusual profits in order to 'stimulate' production; that nothing but pecuniary rewards will do—rewards paid in money, not in the mere liberation of the world.

"I take it for granted that those who argue thus do not stop to think what that means."

"Do they mean that you must be paid, must be bribed, to make your contribution, a contribution that costs you neither a drop of blood nor a tear, when the whole world is in travail and men everywhere depend upon and call to you to bring them out of bondage and make the world a fit place to live in again, amidst peace and justice?"

Appeals to Honor.

"Do they mean that you will exact a price, drive a bargain, with the men who are enduring the agony of this war on the battlefields, in the trenches, amidst the lurking dangers of the sea, or with the bereaved women and pitiful children, before you will come forward to do your duty and give some part of your life, in easy, peaceful fashion, for the things we are fighting for, the things we have pledged our fortunes, our lives, our sacred honor to vindicate and defend—liberty and justice and fair dealing and the peace of nations?"

"Of course you will not. It is inconceivable. Your patriotism is of the same self-denying stuff as the patriotism of the men dead or maimed on the fields of France, or else it is not patriotism at all."

Full Dollar's Worth.

"Let us never speak, then, of profits and of patriotism in the same sentence, but face facts and meet them. Let us do sound business, but not in the midst of a mist."

"Many a grievous burden of taxation will be laid on this nation, in this generation and in the next, to pay for this war; let us see to it that for every dollar that is taken from the people's pockets it shall be possible to obtain a dollar's worth of the sound stuff they need."

"Let me turn for a moment to the ship owners of the United States and the other ocean carriers whose example they have followed, and ask them if they realize what obstacles, what almost insuperable obstacles, they have been putting in the way of the successful prosecution of this war by the ocean freight rates they have been exacting."

Making War a Failure.

"They are doing everything that high freight charges can do to make the war a failure, to make it impossible."

"I do not say that they realize this or intend it. The thing has happened naturally enough because the commercial processes which we are content to see operate in ordinary times have without sufficient thought been continued into a period where they have no proper place."

"I am not questioning motives. I am merely stating a fact, and stating it in order that attention may be fixed upon it."

"The fact is that those who have fixed war freight rates have taken the most effective means in their power to defeat the armies engaged against Germany. When they realize this we may, I take it for granted, count upon them to reconsider the whole matter. It is high time. Their extra hazards are covered by war risk insurance."

Warning Is Sounded.

"I know, and you know, what response to this great challenge of duty and of opportunity the nation will expect of you; and I know what response you will make."

"Those who do not respond, who do not respond in the spirit of those who have gone to give their lives for us on bloody fields far away, may safely be left to be dealt with by opinion and the law—for the law must, of course, command those things."

"I am dealing with the matter thus publicly and frankly, not because I have any doubt or fear as to the result but only in order that in all our thinking and in all our dealings with one another we may move in a perfectly clear air of mutual understanding."

Must Have Same Prices.

"And there is something more that we must add to our thinking. The public is now as much a part of the government as are the army and navy themselves; the whole people in all their activities are now mobilized and in service for the accomplishment of the nation's task in this war; it is in such circumstances impossible justly to distinguish between industrial purchases made by the government and industrial purchases made by the managers of industries, and it is just as much our duty to sustain the industries of the country with all the industries that contribute to its life as it is to sustain our forces in the field and on the sea."

Think Not of Self.

"We must make prices to the public the same as the prices to the government. Prices mean the same thing everywhere now. They mean the efficiency or the inefficiency of the nation, whether it is the government that pays them or not. They mean victory or defeat. They mean that America will win her place once for all among the foremost free nations of the world or that she will sink to defeat and become a second-rate power alike in thought and in action. This is a day of her reckoning and every man among us must personally face that reckoning along with her."

"The case needs no arguing. I assume that I am only expressing your own thoughts—what must be in the mind of every true man when he faces the tragedy and the solemn glory of the present war, for the emancipation of mankind."

"I summon you to a great duty, a great privilege, a shining dignity and distinction. I shall expect every man who is not a slacker to be at my side throughout this great enterprise. In it no man can win honor who thinks of himself."

EXTRA SESSION CALLED

STATE LEGISLATORS WILL MEET ON JULY 15.

Governor, in Proclamation, Names Eight Propositions on Which Legislation Is Desired.

Western Newspaper Union News Service.

Denver.—The expected call for the extra session of the Colorado Assembly was made public by Governor Gunter. The proclamation includes eight distinct propositions and reads:

Whereas, It is provided in Section 9 of Article IV of the state constitution that "The governor may on extraordinary occasions convene the General Assembly by proclamation, stating therein the purpose for which it is to assemble"; and,

Whereas, The United States is now at war with the Empire of Germany, and has called the entire National Guard of the State of Colorado to its aid, and requires the aid and assistance of this state in other ways, whereby in the opinion of the governor an extraordinary occasion such as is contemplated by the constitution has arisen;

Now, Therefore, I, Julius C. Gunter, governor of the state of Colorado, do by this proclamation convene the Twenty-first General Assembly of this state and hereby summon the members thereof to meet in special session, at the capitol, in the city of Denver, on Wednesday, the 18th day of July, 1917, at 12 o'clock noon.

The purposes for which the General Assembly is convened are as follows:

1st. To provide, either by the issuance of bonds or by taxes, or both, for paying the expenses which have been, or may be, incurred for the raising, maintenance, equipment and preparation of the National Guard of the state or federal service; and to provide for paying all other expenses arising out of the matters and things hereinafter specifically referred to; and to make appropriations therefor.

2nd. To provide a guard or force to maintain order in the state.

3rd. To provide for the conservation and distribution of the food supply, and the increase of production.

4th. To permit state banking institutions to enter the federal reserve system.

5th. To provide funds for such other needs and uses of the state as have arisen or may arise out of the war.

6th. To provide for the payment of warrants already issued on account of the National Guard of the state in the year 1916.

7th. To provide for the support and maintenance of the State Soldiers and Sailors Home at Monte Vista.

8th. To provide for the expenses of the special session hereby called.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the great seal of the state to be affixed hereto at Denver, Colorado, this 6th day of July, 1917.

JULIUS C. GUNTER, Governor.

Attest: JAMES R. NOLAND, Secretary of State.

High Prices for State Land Sold.

Approximately 13,000 acres of state lands were sold at public auction by Register of the Land Board Vivian, the parcels sold ranging from forty to 160 acres, and in many instances the price being higher than the appraised value. The average price paid being $14 an acre and the highest price paid per acre was $92 for forty acres in Boulder county. The location of the land placed on sale was in Weld, Larimer, Arapahoe, Phillips, Kiowa, El Paso, Boulder, Montezuma, Otero, Las Animas, Yuma, Washington, Baca and Adams counties.

Geologist After Fake Oil Companies.

Prof. Russell D. George, expert geologist of the University of Colorado, has been called upon by Attorney General Hubbard to investigate the oil lands of the state and to locate possible oil fields as a result of several complaints received of a number of fake oil companies operating in the state.

Colorado Guard Camps Chosen.

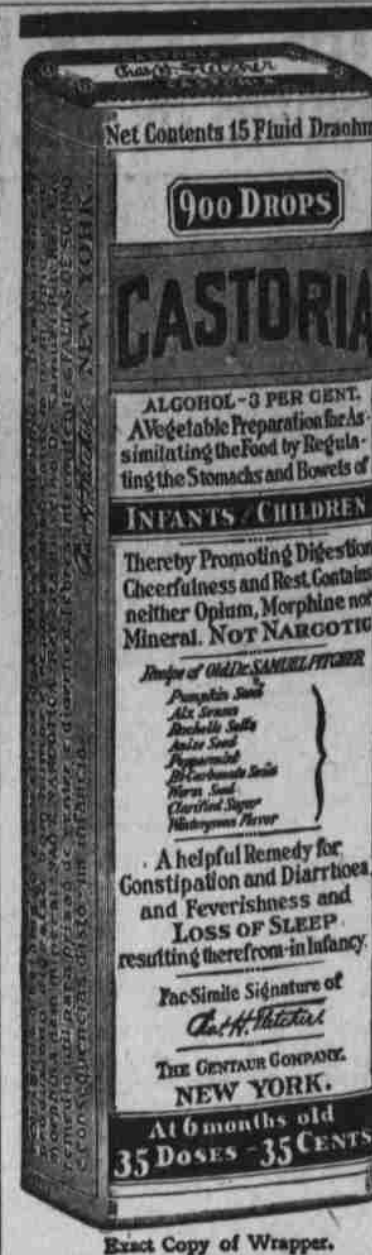

Adjutant General Baldwin has selected the following places for guard mobilization: First regiment of infantry, Fort Logan, Denver. Second regiment of infantry, state fair grounds, Pueblo. Signal corps, state rifle range, Golden. First regiment of cavalry, Overland Park, Denver. Engineers, Boulder.

Farmers Urged to Plant Winter Wheat.

Colorado farmers are urged by Lou D. Sweet, chairman of the sub-committee on seeds of the state ways and means committee, to plant every available acre they can in winter wheat.

Best Men Asked for Riley Camp.

Misunderstanding which has spread through the state concerning the requirements for entry into the second officers' training camp, which will open Aug. 27, is said by officers in charge of the applications to have hampered them in their efforts to secure the state's quota. Maj. A. M. Fuller of Fort Logan, who has charge of selecting the men, intends starting an active campaign to secure additional applications. The number allotted to Colorado is 152 men.
